ICABE 2017 is taking place at the UNWE in cooperation with a number of other European and American Universities in addition to a number of International Journals supporting the conference.

The Local Organizing Committee, your Rector Professor Statty Stattev and myself have made whatever is required for a very successful ICABE in Sofia.

This is the 13th edition of the International Conference on Applied Business and Economics (ICABE 2017) while the next one will take place in Bali, Indonesia in March 2018.

Besides this theme we are accepting any article in the field of Business-Economics according to the list of disciplines prepared by the AEA.

Articles presented in the conference will be evaluated on a very fast process for publication in one of the 9 journals supporting the conference indexed in international data bases (Scopus, REPEC, Research gate, SSRN, etc).

We will appreciate your interest distributing the call of papers among your colleagues in Bulgaria and abroad and we will be very glad to welcome you at the conference in Sofia.
