

FREE OF CHARGE UNTIL 31 OCTOBER 2026

Write the content. SciFlow handles the formatting.

From 1 to 31 October 2026, the UNWE University Library provides all students, PhD students and faculty members at the University of National and World Economy with access to SciFlow - an academic writing editor that runs in the browser.

No manual formatting

Page numbers, tables of contents and figure and table numbering are generated for you and stay consistent.

Change citation style, not your document

More than 5,000 journal templates with their matching citation styles are available.

Four export formats

Word, PDF, HTML and JATS — you can take your work out and keep it at any time.

Your reference manager

Direct import from Zotero, Citavi and Mendeley. The reference list is built automatically.

Write together

Several people work in the same document. Supervisors comment, and changes stay traceable.

Data stored in Germany

Storage is on servers in Germany. Nothing to install, no licence cost for you.
