

INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE

in

III International Scientific Conference on "GLOBALISM, REGIONALISM, SECURITY - 2020"

Dear colleagues and friends,

We are pleased to invite you to join the traditional International Scientific Conference entitled "GLOBALISM, REGIONALISM, SECURITY - 2020". The event will be held September 24-26, 2020 at UNWE - "Ravda".

Regarding the event:

Third time in a row, the Department of Regional Development and the Department of National and Regional Security will organize their joint international scientific conference dedicated to current issues related to globalization, regional development and security. The goals of the forum are to build on the scientific results achieved so far, to create opportunities for creative discussions and to support the creation of new partnerships.

Research is focused on three main thematic areas:

1. Globalism. Major global trends and issues. Development of Smart Cities;
2. Regionalism. Regional trends in the EU development, Europe and the world;
3. Security. Security issues and trends. Mechanisms to increase security.

The authors will be able to develop and present the results of their research in two languages: Bulgarian and English.

You can find the full information about the event on the conference website.

Useful links:

Conference details

Application form
and fees

Technical requirements

Contact details

The conference is part of the 100th anniversary calendar of UNWE.

Sincerely,

The organizing committee of the conference

